

React Front-End Javascript Developer for Goodwall

About us

Rated as one of the top startups in Switzerland and Europe, Goodwall is a social media network for high school students to tell their story to other like minded students, connect with universities, access exclusive opportunities and win awards and scholarships. We are helping students find their passion and maximize their potential easier than ever before.

We have an active and growing community of more than 700,000 members from 150+ countries, we work with universities and companies around the world and are well financed by seasoned, educational and technology investors.

We are a dynamic and growing multicultural team made of 20 passionate and talented people with a large variety of skills covering the goals we set ourselves to achieve. We are continuously looking for creative, smart and skilled people to join us and help make Goodwall a great place and product. Our team focuses on using the latest technologies and tools available in order to offer the best and most exciting experience to our users. Regarding remuneration, we offer an industry competitive salary.

What you will do

- Develop modern SPA web applications
- Implement new features, maintain and optimize existing ones
- Write clean, elegant, simple, testable code
- Collaborate with developers and other teams to turn ideas into working products
- Work using tests, code reviews and continuous integration to ensure a high level of quality in your code
- Be a part of a highly motivated team of code lovers, always seeking to improve themselves

What we expect

- 3+ years of developing high quality, modern web applications
- Experience using React.js and supporting libraries
- Understanding of SPA State Management patterns such as Redux
- Strong markup skills (HTML5 / CSS3)
- Up to date understanding of the JavaScript ecosystem. Including but not limited to: ES6/7, Babel transpilation, Webpack, Unit test runners and supporting frameworks
- Experience with Backbone and Marionette is a plus
- English proficiency (written and spoken)

Location - We have offices in Switzerland (Geneva) and Serbia (Novi Sad) but would be ok with remote work as well.

Starting Date - As soon as possible.

Please apply by sending your CV to igor@goodwall.org